

As of September 27, 2018, the National Institutes of Health is no longer offering their online program for research ethics. However, their training module and accompanying quiz questions are public domain and will continue to be used in house by Hendrix College. For questions about completing this training, please email HSRB@hendrix.edu.

Completing the Hendrix College/ NIH training program for research ethics

1. Read the PDF version of the NIH training module in full.
  - Note: Please ignore references to module quizzes in the PDF version of the training module. Those are referring to the online quizzes previously hosted by NIH; you will not pass this course by answering these questions through a survey hosted by Hendrix College.

2. When you are prepared to take the quiz, please click on the following link:

  - Note that you must earn a score of 100% (21/21 questions correct) to pass this training course. However, you may take this quiz as many times as is necessary to earn that score. To retake the quiz, simply click on the above link again to start anew.

3. After passing the quiz at 100%, please send an email to HSRB@hendrix.edu to request a copy of your completion certificate.
  - Your completion certifications will be sent to you within 48 business hours of your request.
