*Congress will set interest rates for Stafford loans disbursed July 1, 2016–June 30, 2017, on or after July 1, 2016.

Federal Perkins Loans are at a fixed 5% interest rate, during repayment. The federal government pays the interest while you are enrolled on at least a half-time basis. After you withdraw, drop below ½ time, or graduate, you have a nine-month grace period before you must start making payments.

Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans are available to all students who demonstrate calculated need for assistance when filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The federal government pays the interest while you are enrolled on at least a half-time basis. After you withdraw, graduate, or drop below half-time a six-month grace period exists before you must start making payments.

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans are available to students who do not demonstrate calculated need for assistance when filing the FAFSA, or whose need has been met through other resources. Interest will accrue while you are enrolled. You have the option to pay this interest as it accrues, or have it added to your loan principal when you leave school.
