

Postdoctoral Fellow in Digital Humanities and Pedagogy

The Postdoctoral Fellow in Digital Humanities and Pedagogy will work as a catalyst for faculty innovation bridging learning resources, curricula, and scholarly opportunity with appropriate academic technologies. The Fellow will plan, promote, and implement strategies to encourage faculty discourse about pedagogy, e-learning tools, and the integration of digital media into teaching and scholarship. The Postdoctoral Fellow is a two-year academic appointment reporting to the Chief Information Officer/Executive Vice President. Depending upon credentials, the Postdoctoral Fellow may also be affiliated with an academic department and will be assigned a mentor. The Fellow is expected to commit approximately 50% of her or his time to professional development, which may include teaching at the Fellow's discretion.

Application should include a letter, a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation (including the phone numbers and email addresses of the referees), and transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work. Application materials should be sent to the Postdoctoral Fellow in Digital Humanities Position Search at Hendrix College, 1600 Washington Avenue, Conway, AR 72032. Applications may also be sent via email to hr@hendrix.edu. The application deadline is March 30, 2012.

Hendrix is a distinguished liberal arts college with an endowment of $145 million, sheltering a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, located in Conway, Arkansas, thirty miles from Little Rock at the foothills of the Ozark Mountains. The College, related to the United Methodist Church, has a strong commitment to excellence in teaching liberal arts. Hendrix is an equal opportunity employer. Women and members of minority groups are especially encouraged to apply. Please visit our website at www.hendrix.edu