Greenwich University occupies the beautiful World Heritage site of the 17th cent. Royal Naval Hospital, designed by Christopher Wren.

We encourage submissions of new papers, work in progress, tools under development, and especially research by PhD students. MAER-Net remains committed to serve as a clearinghouse for research in meta-regression analysis and to improve the communication among scholars in this rapidly growing field. Published papers are also acceptable if they have not been presented at MAER-Net previously.

Send your abstract by June 1 to tom.stanley1@deakin.edu.au or Stanley@Hendrix.edu . Abstracts may be up to four pages long to document the completion of your meta-analysis. For further information, contact: or Tom Stanley (Stanley@Hendrix.edu or tom.stanley1@deakin.edu.au).
