We are just an advance breed of monkeys on a minor planet of a very average star. But we can understand the Universe. That makes us something very special.

Burt Rutan, who owns SpaceShipOne which flew to the atmosphere’s edge last year, hopes to make space travel available to the public. He says that not just millionaires will be able to travel the cosmos.

SpaceShipOne was designed by Rutan. It is a three seat rocket plane that is able to endure several trips into space a week.

Rutan is working with Virgin Galactic on building five more ships like SpaceShipOne. These new ships will be aimed at commercial space flight.

Will Whitehorn, who is Virgin Galactic’s president, hopes to be in business by the end of the decade.

“We believe that within five years we can create a viable business which will be profitable,” Whitehorn said. “And that will allow us to bring down the cost of spaceflights to levels which would be affordable across the United States and around the world.”

He also added that NASA could become a customer.

“The reason they should come to us for a customer is because we can do for them what needs to be done more efficiently than they can do it themselves,” he claimed.

THE HENDRIX DANCE ENSEMBLE
SPRING CONCERT ON TWO NIGHTS!
Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26 and 27 at 7:30, the Hendrix Dance Ensemble will present its Spring Concert featuring student dancing in original works by student and staff choreographers. Works this year feature live musical accompaniment through drumming and singing as well as “Arcs” an original composition by Dr. Karen Griebling played by the Hendrix College Chamber Orchestra. The dances are presented in a variety of styles including ballet, modern and red-hot Latin Jazz! Our choreographers explore a wide range of ideas and inspirations through movement: from nightclubs and nature to friendship and aging to spirituality, southern-ness and foot-stomping, full-throttle rhythmic explosions. And one piece uses twin beds! The Spring Dance Concert is a celebration of what Hendrix is all about: a whole life in spirit, mind and body. A fun night for all!

An honest man’s pillow is his peace of mind.

The Senior Seminar Production Class Presents:
Big Love by Charles L. Mee
Fifty sisters flee to Italy as refugees to escape the marriages their father has arranged. They are followed by their determined grooms and are forced to marry. However, the new husbands find that the wedding night may be much less fun than planned. The women decide to take justice into their own hands and make a pact to kill their new husbands in order to free themselves. But what happens when one of the sisters chooses love? There will be foreplay you’ll never forget involved in this wedding night gone horribly wrong!
Come out for a fun and shocking evening of love, sex, and murder. For adult audiences only.
April 20th -23rd, 7:30 pm, with an additional performance April 23rd at 2:00
No reservations required! House opens at 7:00, first come first served.
